Introduction

Friday Afternoon Comprehension and Composition is designed to enhance students' reading and writing abilities through an engaging and enjoyable approach, adhering to the National Curriculum Framework for School Education (NCF-SE) 2023. This vibrant eight-book series emphasizes competency-based learning and development of Higher Order Thinking Skills (HOTS).

According to the NCF, "Literacy means that all students demonstrate fluent and critical reading, writing, and comprehension capacities in the Language." Friday Afternoon Comprehension and Composition embodies this vision, making comprehension a critical skill for academic success and beyond.

On Oxford Educate, teachers and learners get access to:

- Ebook
- Audio
- Worksheets
- Quizzes

A Special 'Every Child Learns' Edition

This new edition features Differentiated Digital Worksheets on Oxford Educate* – the digital companion to Friday Afternoon Comprehension. These worksheets are tailored to meet the unique needs of each student, ensuring that every child learns at their own pace and level.

Each chapter offers learners the flexibility to 'Start Easy' and 'Level Up' on Oxford Educate, keeping every child motivated, engaged, and steadily progressing.

Digital Literacy Themes

Passages on online safety, misinformation, and responsible digital use help students critically analyse their social media habits and their consequences. These are accompanied by cartoons from a renowned cartoonist.

Read and Do Activities

Practical tasks integrated with reading comprehension foster the ability to follow instructions effectively.

Diverse Selections

From picture stories and comics to contemporary fiction and folk tales, each book offers reading materials tailored to different levels. Intercurricular texts linked to subjects like science and history make learning holistic.

Child-Friendly Design

Colourful illustrations make reading an enjoyable experience for children.

Highlights of the Series

Picture Composition Tasks

Creative thinking is fostered through tasks that involve developing stories and descriptions based on visual prompts.

Fun with Writing

Learning various writing formats through scaffolding and examples make writing an enjoyable process.
